Update on Françoise

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am glad to take this moment to share with you updates on your sponsored child Françoise. She says 'hi' to you and to all your beloved ones. The story below sums up how your sponsored daughter has been doing over the past months.

What a day

Françoise is always comfortable with her family members in the village. Her friendship with siblings is good as usual. They appreciate her good manners. They like her smile and support they receive from her during everyday life.

Can you guess what Françoise prefers to do in the village? She enjoys playing hide-and- seek as well as talking with her best friends in the village like Dorcas and Claudine. After class, they meet in order to play and talk.

Françoise often says after playing, 'What a day! It was a busy one because there was no time for break. I had good time my friends. We played hide and seek game and took time to tell stories after playing'. Thank you for allowing this girl to grow up in a loving home. I hope you will also enjoy hearing from the story below.

A reward.

A folding session.

A due practical session.

Your sponsored child is doing well at school. She is doing well in primary school. She easily wakes up early. She prepares herself lest to be late at school. She is a hardworking hard pupil.

Do you remember that Françoise's favourite subjects are Mathematics, Kinyarwanda the native language and English? She keeps performing well in those subjects. Her teachers are proud of her progress in all areas of her studies.

At the beginning of the school year, Francoise promised Languide to perform even better. 'Mom, I will do all my best to get more marks. I want chewing gums as a reward.', said Francoise. She promised her that she would give her more than chewing gums if she adds on the marks.

Francoise takes initiative to her homework. She also reminds her colleagues to do alike when they are astray. Thank you for your support. You have allowed Francoise to get quality education she deserves.

Francoise is living well in the village with her SOS siblings. All the family members know that your sponsored child is a good story teller. 'I actually start to laugh even before Francoise also known as Fanny completes her story', says her SOS Mother Languide.

Francoise's friends Fillette and Willy like to hear from her every time she is sharing a story. Thanks to your support that has allowed this girl to grow up in a caring environment. I am sure you still want to get more updates. Enjoy the following!

Francoise is good at performing a traditional dance. She is among the best dancers at school. She guides others when dancing. She entertains people when there is an event at school and in the village. They also admire the way she dances by smiling at them.

'I feel proud when I am dancing. I like when people are looking at me amazingly. I do my best to make them happy', she confirms. She adds on, 'My colleagues love me because I guide them happily when we are dancing'. All of this happens because of the support you give Francoise. Thank you indeed

By this, I come to the end of these 2023 updates on your sponsored child Francoise, thanking you for your usual cooperation and continuous support. Thanks!

Yours sincerely,

Gaspard TWAMBAZIMANA
